Salon U

2535 N. Lincoln Ave.

Despite Musikovski's former career as a model, we decided to break our rule of not getting our hair cut by anyone prettier than us. After all, the very name, Salon U, suggests that it's about us, not him. From the attentive reception (coffee, tea, champagne?), to the loaded video iPods, to Musikovski's careful analysis of our hair, we were the center of attention. Musikovski didn't get too scissor-happy though, obeying our edict to remove only about an inch of the length while shaping the curls so our head no longer resembled a neglected topiary. He gave us layers that fall just right, and now we're all about him. $71.
